Mayor,

For a project of this scale I'd suggest the Village obtain an independent analysis by an expert third party who can double-check the Library project's estimated construction, operating expense, and other costs. This third party may also be tasked with producing an analysis of alternative options. A project of this scale requires independent assessment at numerous points, most critically at its incipient stage. Meanwhile, although residents cannot fully educate themselves on the fine points of the proposal, they could greatly benefit from a summary third-party analysis.

Regards,
