To the Mayor and the Trustees:

Another summer is over and it appears that the Village Summer Ban on Gas Powered Leaf Blowers has been largely ignored once again by gardeners and home owners...

In my neighborhood and the surrounding areas...gas powered Leaf Blowers were used daily... by gardeners who appear unconcerned about our Summer Ban.
Homeowners appear unwilling to require them to adhere to the ban.

The Noise and Pollution continues.

My gardener is the Only One on my block who does Not use the Gas Powered Blower in the summer.
I have heard that some homeowners have told their gardeners that if they receive a summons for Blower use...the homeowner will pay the fine for them...

I think perhaps making homeowners liable for the fine..
in addition to the gardener being liable for it.. may be another step to take ..since it is obvious that the law is not achieving compliance..and never has..
Increasing the fine to $150 might be another step to take.

Thanks very much for listening.
