Subject: Recyclables

We are two long time residents over 75. My husband uses a walker. In order to put out newspapers and cartons, I need to load my car, drive up the driveway hill and unload them at the curb. Getting recyclables up to the curb would be even more difficult and poses a challenge for elderly homeowners (especially in winter when driveways can be icy.) And, increasing the frequency makes it worse.

In addition, many homeowners put cartons out the day before collection. If we were to also have recyclables curbside and if we were to go weekly, we would have unsightly streets for long periods.
